

Hiking in “Rahoue”- Tannourine

رهوة “تتورين”

Sunday September 16, 2012

The hidden treasures and beauty of Lebanon are yet to be unveiled.

It's one of the most beautiful hikes that will leave wonderful pictures in your memory. Hike along the upper part of the west mountain chain “Jabal el Mnaitra”!

Tallet el Rahwe is one of the highest peaks in the Middle East. It worth all the effort you put to get there. The summit offers a huge panoramic breathtaking view in all directions, and even Cyprus can be seen when weather conditions are especially good. It is not to be missed!

Our Hike will start from upper part of Fehta village "Tem charta" and take the path between the mountains that will lead us to an old historical source called "3ein Ghoma", where Jewish used to live.

From there we will continue to Rahoue field where we will find the Rahoue cave; can you imagine where you can get cold and drink the coldest and tested fresh water in 2750m above sea level. We will have lunch there.

HIKING LEVEL. 1 to 3 for easy, 4 to 6 for intermediate, 7 to 9 for strenuous

This hike is tough, LEVEL 7, and about 21 km long. It is mostly strait. The hike starts from Fehta. The path is bare, with no trees to shade us from the sun. It is good to take the challenge. Reaching the highest peak (2900 m) is a worthy experience. You will get the feeling of being on top of the world!

If you prefer an easier hike (LEVEL 3& 4), you have the possibility to take a lift in a van to reduce 50% of the path. Then you will meet with level 7 and continue the journey. The van will accompany us along the way in case of need.

WHERE IS THE HIKE: Tannourine – Jabal el Mnaitra / Batroun District

In the north, 2900 meters above sea level, 105 km from Beirut.
